Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Correspondence Between Nathan Appleton and John G. Palfrey: Intended as a Supplement to Mr. Palfrey s Pamphlet on the Slave Power This was my whole action, my whole demonstration as you are pleased to call it. This letter you thought proper to publish, and it is to that publication that you attribute such tremendous results. I was at a loss whether to consider the whole thing more ludicrous or absurd; but considering the tone of the article I thought it due to a becoming self respect to set the readers of the Whig right as to my real agency in the matter. I accordingly sent to that paper a communication which was published on the 14th of August. Here I was willing to let the matter rest, as the readers of the Whig had my explanation before them in the same paper. But the case is changed when you publish these numbers in a pamphlet, without this explanation or any reference to it, and under the sanction of your name, the original charge fortified and...
