Not illustrated. 1872 Excerpt: .Commodore, as if it were a regular naval squadron, set sail for a month's recreation in distant, not foreign waters. The usual summer cruise, in July or August, is through Long Island Sound, touching at New London, Newport, New Bedford, Holmes's Hole, Martha's Vineyard, and, sometimes, points beyond. The Eastern clubs usually meet the New York squadron at Newport, where an annual ball is given, and regattas at various places relieve the little monotony there may be in the splendid sport and healthful recreation. Generally the ladies of the families of the owners accompany them in these cruises, and add to the variety and the delight of the life. THE GRAF Engravings form the literature of the unlettered--a literature almost as old as human society. Memory, becoming wearied by the incessant toil of preserving, for generation after generation, the chronicles of nations and...
